

AROUND PEARL CITY.

THROUGH THE PINEAPPLE PLANTATIONS.

Half a Million Plants Will Be Growing Before the End of the Year—General Notes.

One who has not visited Pearl City for the past eighteen months would scarcely recognize it under present conditions. Acres and acres of land which were then covered with brush, rocks and a heavy growth of algalga have been cleared off and planted either to pineapples, bananas, fruit trees or vegetables, and preparations are now being made for clearing several large tracts to be planted this fall, mostly with pineapples.

Accepting an invitation from Mr. James Torbert of the Pacific Hardware Company, a STAR representative boarded the 8:45 train yesterday morning and was soon at Pearl City, where he found Mr. Torbert awaiting him with a carriage, in which he was driven first to Mr. Torbert's hospitable home, and afterwards around the peninsula and other portions of the city.

The stranger's attention is naturally attracted at the outset to the residence and grounds of Mr. Torbert, not only because the residence is the largest and most imposing in Pearl City, but because of its commanding position and the fact that the trees, shrubbery, etc., are further advanced than on other places. And yet it is only eighteen months since Mr. Torbert set out his first lot of trees. He now has blue gums twenty-five feet high, mangoes fifteen feet, and a variety of other trees in proportion, such as alligator pears, figs, peaches and oranges. During the coming fall Messrs. Torbert and Simms—the latter being interested with him in the plantation—will set out about 1500 fruit trees of different imported varieties. At present these gentlemen have about ten acres under cultivation, which are now planted with all kinds of fruit and vegetables. About 2000 new pineapple plants have been set out this season, and 3000 more are yet to be planted. At this place the plants are set out at a much greater distance apart than at any of the other places visited, and more water is used, which probably accounts for the enormous average size of the fruit shipped this season. Where other plantations pack from thirty to forty pines in a crate, Messrs. Torbert and Simms average about eleven to thirteen, and in one instance only eight could be squeezed in, but these averaged eleven pounds in weight without the crowns. The shipment made to Vancouver by the last steamer arrived in splendid condition and realized handsome prices.

Adjoining this plantation is that of the Pearl City Fruit Company, under the management of Mr. J. McLain. Here there are about 40,000 pineapple plants in splendid condition, a large number of which will mature in about six weeks. Ground has already been cleared for setting out about 150,000 plants this fall. A prominent feature on this plantation is the number of lime trees set out, at least 10,000 one would say, and all doing well. In the course of three or four years the entire premises will be enclosed by an impenetrable hedge of lime trees, while an avenue of the same trees will extend from the gate to the house. Around the house is the vegetable garden in which quantities of all kinds are grown, about half an acre being in tomatoes alone, which have paid very well this season. There are also a number of fruit trees around the house which are doing finely although only set out a year ago.

The Woodlawn Fruit Company in the same vicinity, under the management of C. J. McCarthy, has about 10,000 plants of imported varieties set out, besides a large number of orange and lemon trees. A large tract of land will be cleared off this year by the owners of this place ready for planting next season. Mr. McCarthy is a firm believer in the future possibilities of a northern market for our citrus fruit and intends to experiment with imported oranges, such as the navel and best Sicilian and Florida varieties.

The water necessary to irrigate these plantations is supplied by the railroad company at reasonable rates, and is pumped from the main reservoir on the peninsula through a six-inch main to a smaller one above Pearl City, and thence distributed to the houses and plantations. When the wind is blowing a thirty-foot geared cyclone windmill does the pumping instead of steam. The lower reservoir holds 20,000,000 gallons of water.

In addition to the above plantations the Hawaiian Fruit and Packing Company at Ewa have set out this season about 40,000 plants, and some 60,000 more will be planted in the next three months. This place is under the management of Mr. John Kidwell, but lack of time prevented a visit. The plants used here all come from Mr. Kidwell's Manoa valley plantation.

Some idea of the improvements going on at Pearl City and Ewa may be formed from the pineapple business alone. Two years ago the properties above described consisted of a desert waste; to day they are well cultivated plantations, containing more than half a million pineapple plants alone, besides other improvements, such as ## houses, barns, stables, orchards, banana and other fruit trees and vegetable gardens. The income from pineapples alone from these plantations next year should be over $100,000. The climate of Pearl City seems exactly suited to fruit-growing, the air being drier, and the temperature less variable than at other points. The average temperature at 5 A. M. at Mr. Torbert's residence for the past year has been sixty-eight degrees, and it has seldom varied more than two or three degrees from that figure. From the above hurried and short description of the fruit industry of Pearl City it would seem that its prospects are more than good, whether the United States make a naval station of its magnificent harbor or not.

THE KAMS BEATEN.

A Change in the Uninterrupted Series of Baseball Triumphs.

The Kamehamehas met their Waterloo of the season in their game with the Crescents on Saturday last, partly from their over confidence "we are the champions" air and partly from their misfit make-up, through several of the regulars having entered upon their vacation. The Crescents also had to fill up their quota by calling on Substitute Harry Wilder for left field, and pressed Tommy Price of the Hawaiians for right field. Young Lishman was missed from his important post at third base, being absent on Hawaii, but James Lemon served the position well, except in the sixth inning, when he relieved Angus in pitching.

The attendance was far below the average notwithstanding the band's enticing strains. J. O. Carter Jr. and Prince Cupid served as umpires.

The game opened up with the Crescents to the bat, and they surprised themselves and others immediately by scoring five runs. Doubtless this starter gave them spirit for the game, as they played throughout with more confidence than usual, and, consequently, less errors.

The batting proclivities of the Crescents was doubtless due in part of their "catching on" to the Kam's duds pitcher's style of delivery, while the students, on the other hand, failed to get in any effective work during the eight innings that Angus occupied the box.

The prettiest play of the day was in the third inning by a running catch of Harry Wilder's at left field for a liner. The hit looked such a safe one that the runner from first was about at second base as he found his chum "out on a fly" and, ere he could recover, a good throw to the only double play during the game. Donald Ross is credited with the only three base hit of the day. The score by innings was as follows:

Crescents.....5 0 0 1 1 0 0 0 8

Next Saturday the Crescents and Hawaiians will cross bats. This will probably be the last regular game of the season, after which the junior league teams will come on with their weekly attractions as aspirants for future honors.

DISTRICT COURT MATTERS.

A Large Calendar and a Number of Cases Disposed of.

There were twenty eight cases on the District Court calendar when Judge Foster announced himself ready for business this morning.

Ah Chew, for keeping a lodging house, after having been refused a permit by Dr. J. D. McVeigh, an agent of the Board of Health, was found guilty and fined $20, with $3 50 for costs.

Ah Kui, caught in the act of smoking opium by policeman Logan, was found guilty and fined $50 and costs. T. McPherson, Alapai and Kalawala (w) each forfeited $6 bail for being drunk. Three others pleaded guilty and were fined $2 each and $1 costs, and one other got $5 and costs.

Five Chinese charged with gaming have their case set for hearing to-morrow.

W. T. Monsarrat, for assault and battery on O. Holt in Honolulu on Saturday last, pleaded guilty and was fined $7 and $3 costs.

TWO RESIGNATIONS.

C. L. Carter and J. O. Carter Retire From Office.

Charles L. Carter has resigned his position as District Judge, owing to the pressure of private business. The matter of the appointment of his successor has not yet been considered by the Executive Council, as there is no particular hurry in the matter. Luther Wilcox holds a commission as District Judge and could act as such in case of the sickness or other disability of Judge Foster. Owing to the latter's contemplated departure for about two months, a new appointment will probably be made, as Mr. Wilcox's time will be taken up in the Supreme and Circuit Courts, for which he is official interpreter.

J. O. Carter also sent in his resignation to the Attorney-General this morning as a member of the Board of Health. He mentions no reasons for his action, but states that the Attorney-General is probably aware of them.

The Sailors' Home.

A special meeting of the Board of Trustees at the Sailors' Home was held this morning to consider some proposed changes in the plan. Architect Ripley being present by special invitation explained the changes suggested, but the Board finally decided to adhere to the original plan.

AN EX-PREMIER'S DEBTS.

MEETING OF SAM PARKER'S CREDITORS.

Committee Appointed—A Case of Hopeless Insolvency—Some Gossip About the Case.

The following creditors of Sam Parker met this morning at 10 o'clock at the room of the Chamber of Commerce: Messrs. Colburn, E. C. Macfarlane, Ena, Cornwell, Wenner, P. C. Jones, Frank Brown, Bruce Cartwright, C. W. Ashford, Fred Lewis, Focke, Goo Kim, B. Monsarrat, Wing Chan, A. P. Peterson, Allen, D. B. Smith, Dillingham, Mellis, Lowrey, Wilhelm, Rowe, Luther Wilcox, James Spencer, Ed. McInerney, T. R. Walker, Parmelee, C. O. Berger, Gear and Egan.

P. C. Jones called the meeting to order and stated that he had issued the call in response to the wish of several creditors, and that the meeting was for the purpose of taking joint action in securing their claims or doing the best they could under the present state of affairs. He then called for nominations for chairman, John Ena being unanimously voted into that position. Nominations for secretary being next in order, about six prominent merchants were put up, one after the other, but all declined for fear they might be called away before the meeting was over. It began to look as though the meeting would have to call on one of the reporters present to act as secretary when T. R. Walker volunteered to act on condition that the meeting would get through by 11 o'clock. This proviso was accepted, and Mr. Walker received the unanimous vote for secretary.

P. C. Jones called attention to the fact that reporters of the STAR and Advertiser were present, stating that he thought it advisable to obtain the sense of the meeting as to whether their continued presence was desirable or not for the reason that the meeting was a private one which concerned only Mr. Parker and his creditors, and that he thought an injustice might be done the former by making his affairs public. A motion was then made and carried by a two-thirds vote that the reporters be requested to withdraw, which they did.

After the reporters had been properly "fired out" the affairs of Samuel Parker were discussed pro and con. From statements made at the meeting it would appear that Mr. Parker is hopelessly bankrupt, there being about $14,000 interest overdue on the first mortgage and about $10,000 on the second. The unsecured debts will probably run up to $60,000 or $70,000. On motion a committee of five was appointed to further examine into the condition of affairs and report on or before next Friday, the first two members of the committee to represent the mortgagees and the last three the creditors. The following were appointed as such committee: For the mortgagees—P. C. Jones and G. C. Brown; for the creditors—W. C. Wilder, Hermann Focke and H. A. Widemann.

A motion that the committee advertise asking all creditors to file with it a statement of their claims on or before Thursday was also adopted, and the meeting then adjourned subject to call after the committee report.

Among the creditors are Wilder & Co., for $8000; Hopp & Co., $642 65; Lewis & Co., $1200, the latter sum due for groceries. There is also said to be a bill for carriage hire amounting to some $1400. It appears that when Claus Spreckels came here Parker borrowed $1200 of him to pay the grocery bill of Lewis & Co., or rather, to take up a note given that firm in satisfaction of the account. This money went in another direction, and the grocers had the satisfaction of being told by Spreckels himself about the loan, and of hearing the Sugar King say that he would not give the ex-Premier another cent. Later on some friends of Parker wanted to compromise with Lewis & Co. for 20 cents on the dollar, but the firm concluded to decline the proffer and to take its chances with the estate.

PEARL CITY ITEMS

How Justice Is Administered by the Native Court.

A Japanese employed by James Torbert, and one who sleeps in one of the outbuildings of the latter's residence at Pearl City, awoke last Sunday morning at 2 A. M. and found another Jap in his room. He jumped out of bed and grappled with the burglar, striking him three or four heavy blows, but the latter escaped in the darkness, but not before he had been identified. The Japanese awoke Mr. Torbert and his brother, and pursuit was made, but the Jap had got off. He was recognized, however, on the following day and arrested. A passbook for money deposited with the Japanese Consulate and another on Bishop & Co.'s bank, which was among the stolen property, was found in his possession. He was taken before the native Justice and charged with burglary. The trial came off on Friday and the Jap pleaded not guilty and brought along a native lawyer. The Justice found the Jap guilty and sentenced him to thirty days imprisonment, and he is now serving it out on the reef. The native lawyer then said he would appeal the case, and turned to the Justice and had a warrant issued against the Jap who had been robbed for assault and battery on the one who had robbed him. The ## Justice asked Torbert's Jap if he was guilty, and he said: "I suppose so. I hit him as hard as I could," and he was promptly fined $4. These are samples of justice as it is administered at Pearl City.

Mr. Reist, whose place is on the Waikiki side of the Court House, just above the Government road, has been digging a well on his premises. At a depth of twelve feet he struck a stream of water on Saturday which he has been unable to reduce, although he had a pump going all day yesterday.

J. T. Waterhouse has a force of men at work improving his property on the peninsula, where he has eight neat cottages erected and furnished. He is so favorably impressed with the prospects of Pearl City that he has lately purchased twenty-two more lots and one of the two artesian wells. Near the latter he intends to construct a large bath-house and swimming tank. Although he has had many applications for his cottages Mr. Waterhouse refuses to rent any of them until he has got everything fixed to suit himself. A neat church, to serve also as a school-house, has been erected on his property, and a shed depot at the railroad track. If Mr. Waterhouse don't realize another fortune from his Pearl City investments it won't be his fault.

The railroad company has ordered another 10,000-gallon tank for use at the depot.

Complaint is made that Pearl City lots are held so high that persons of moderate means who would like to settle there are virtually deterred from doing so. Residents of the place claim that if the company would sell lots at reasonable rates the increased travel and freight traffic on the road would amply repay them for any reduction they might make in the price of lots.

SUPREME COURT DECISION.

The Slayer of D. L. Huntsman Must Serve Out His Sentence.

A decision in the case of Charles August Herring, convicted at the May term of the Circuit Court of manslaughter in the second degree for the killing of D. L. Huntsman, was handed down by the Supreme Court this morning. The decision, which covers twelve pages of closely written type writing, was written by Chief Justice Judd and is concurred in by both the other Justices. It decides that the indictment was good in every particular and overrules all the exceptions made during the trial. Herring will now serve out his sentence.

The liner Oceanic will arrive at San Francisco to-morrow if she has had good luck and made ordinary speed.
